

The New Jersey Fraternal Order of Police is coming to Myrtle Beach, South Carolina this year! The City of Myrtle Beach and the FOP will be rolling out the red carpet this summer. The web site, www.fopnj2010.com will provide hotel registration, convention updates, attendee services, on-line purchasing, event packages, tours and activities, and everything convention attendees will need to make their trip to Myrtle Beach an enjoyable one. The Sheraton Myrtle Beach – Hotel and Convention Center will house the convention, attendees and their families. Many cost-saving amenities such as local transportation and deeply discounted activities and events will only be available by staying at the Sheraton.

Aside from the general meetings at the convention and expo, there are several events planned throughout the week, including a The Golf Tournament at Myrtlewood and FOP Beach Party & Barbecue at Myrtle Beach State Park!

With help from companies and business partners such as yours, we will make this trip for our convention attendees affordable by offsetting the transportation and event costs throughout the convention week. We hope you will find a sponsorship package to assist in this endeavor that will work for you and your company. This is a great chance for you to get your business information out to the attendees, their families, guests and vendors.

Please review the attached pages of information and be a part of this exciting event that will cater to nearly between 400 and 500 law enforcement officers and their families in attendance. We will be promoting companies that are sponsors of our convention, via pre-convention email blasts, website listings, and acknowledgements throughout the convention week. Website listings will be maintained until January 2011.
